

THE 4-WAY TEST of the things we think, say or do:

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build good will and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

LAST MEETING Patrick Dorsey, Publisher, Herald-Tribune

Mr. Dorsey came to the Herald Tribune (HT) as publisher in October of 2012. The Halifax Media Group, of which The Herald Tribune is now a member, was started in 2010. It is a private company headquartered in Florida and has 37 community newspapers under its banner. There are many editors of the HT and the publisher directs the overall strategy and sits on the editorial board. The goal and focus of the HT is to provide quality local news and information. It engages in all media available today, not just print. The staff is closely related to the community and are trying to make a difference by contributing to solutions that concern its citizens. The paper is doing well and the organization is financially healthy. Mr. Dorsey and the staff believe in the long life of newspapers even with the development of the internet and other media. The future is bright! - Charlotte Ryan

WHO AM I? Throughout their college years, this Rotarian juggled so many activities that some may have said they were burning the candle at both ends. A full time job, college at night, league volleyball throughout the week and partying on the weekends consumed this Rotarian's time. It eventually landed them a perfect mate, whom they promptly married...the day before graduation! (Answer will be revealed at the end of this Wednesday's lunch meeting.)

GUATEMALA PROJECT

Our club is undertaking a project to raise funds for clean, enclosed stoves for homes in Santa Eulalia, Guatemala. These will replace the current indoor open, wood burning, fires currently used for cooking that create toxic fumes. Three members from our club will travel to Guatemala at the end of August and would like to take school supplies for the local school. For more information contact Lynn Roberts.

There will be a box as you enter our meeting room for your donations.
